

6 Nations Pay Debts To U. S., No Official Word From France

Great Britain, Italy, Czechoslovakia, Finland, Latvia and Lithuania Pay Their Debt—France, Belgium, Poland, Estonia and Hungary Fail To Pay.

Washington, Dec. 15 (AP).—The United States today collected war debt payments from six nations while five, unable to pay or determined not to, went into default.

Great Britain was first to have its transfer announced. Secretary Mills receiving official word that the Bank of England had earmarked $95,550,000 of gold for American credit and had instructed the Federal Reserve Bank of New York to remit to the treasury.

Through the same New York agency the treasury expected to get Italy's $1,245,437; Czechoslovakia's $1,500,000; Finland's $186,535; Latvia's $148,552 and Lithuania's $52,336.

Not officially in default until the treasury books are closed for the day, nevertheless France, Belgium, Poland, Estonia and Hungary let their opportunity to pay go by and the treasury was prepared to record the $26,212,511 due from those countries as unpaid.

Another nation, Greece, on November 10 failed to meet a $444,920 payment and today it was indicated that she would also pass up a payment due January 1.

There was no indication what the default of these nations would do to their credit standing or to their relations with the United States. Secretary Mills said the outcome was "purely speculative" and no other official would venture anything more definite. Mills said normal relations between this country and those which do not pay need not necessarily be disrupted.

Despite the certainty that France would not pay, the United States today still was in the peculiar position of having no official word to that effect.

ENGLAND PAYS HER WAR DEBT INSTALLMENT

London, Dec. 15 (AP).—By the simple process of "earmarking" an imposing pile of gold bullion bars lying in the vaults of the Bank of England, Great Britain was paying the United States today the $95,550,000 due on the British war debt installment.

The Federal Reserve Bank of New York was supplying the gold for the actual payment to the United States government on the date the agreement stipulated and the gold, "earmarked" here for the Federal Reserve Bank, will be shipped later by the Bank of England, as required by the American bank.

All of the corporations forfeit their charters under the state tax laws but may renew them by paying the back taxes with interest and a $50 fee within the next six months.

Junior League Revue Rehearsals Progress

Junior League Headquarters on Main street is the scene of much hustle and bustle these days. Rehearsals have reached a point where the various scenes are being worked into a whole. The members of the cast are striving not only to do their work with the technique of professionals but also to outdo the other numbers. This good natured rivalry has made the Rehearsal Hall a center of excitement.

The picture which is presented to an onlooker is one of mingled work and fun. In the center there is always one group practicing chorus work while off at the back the solo dancers work at their steps. In chairs around the edge of the practice floor one sees the members of the skits reading their scripts. At the piano sits that well known piano player, Harry Maisel, and watching, directing everything is John Hall, whose job it is to turn these activities into a smooth evening's entertainment.

One of the outstanding features of the show will occur in the "Oriental" scene when Mrs. Howard Lewis will do "Anitra's Dance" from the famous Peer Gynt Suite.

In front of the rehearsal hall the gift shop is crowded with members of the cast and friends. In addition to those who are looking for gifts and bridge prizes there is usually a table of bridge going. Chatter about the show is constantly in the air as well as demands for cold drinks to quench the parched throats of the performers.

Robbers Use Tear Gas in Bank Holdup

New York, Dec. 15 (AP).—Five robbers held up a branch of the Bank of Manhattan Trust Company at 169th Street and St. Nicholas avenue shortly after it opened for business this morning and fled with approximately $15,000 in cash.

They covered their retreat by hurling tear gas bombs into the bank as they left and drove away in a waiting automobile. An hour later police radio cars were reported close on the fugitives' trail, careening madly through the Bronx as the policemen fired their revolvers at the fleeing robbers.

The manager, assistant manager, paying teller and three women employees of the branch were in the bank when the robbers entered. The manager was forced to open the vault while the other employees were covered with the robbers' revolvers. Two of the women fainted when the tear gas bombs were thrown.

The robbers cut all telephone wires in sight but the alarm was quickly given after they escaped. In the waiting car, a taxicab which police said had remained near the bank during the holdup. The cab crossed the Washington Bridge over the Harlem river into the Bronx, where its trail was picked up by radio cars whose crews received the alarm by short wave from police headquarters.

Verdict of No Cause In Negligence Action

A verdict of no cause of action was returned in the negligence action brought by Joseph L. Kramer of this city against Joseph A. McNelis & Co., local electrical contractors. The accident took place at Main and Green streets and Mr. Kramer sued for personal injuries.

An action in subrogation was taken up for trial following the Kramer-McNelis action. The Stuyvesant Insurance Company seeks to recover from James E. Soeman. Mr. Soeman, it is alleged, parked a truck in front of a garage and when a car attempted to pass the truck it struck a car operated by Lena McDonald. The insurance company seeks to recover for the damages done to the McDonald machine. The accident happened on the Bloomingdale-Newburgh road.

Henry Klein is attorney for plaintiff and Rosendale, Dugan & Halbes, by A. J. Cook, for defendant.

Expresses Views on Bonus, Quits Legion

The following letter, written by R. L. Thompson of Hurley, gives the views of one World War veteran and member of the American Legion on the proposal to issue over two billions of dollars in paper money and make immediate payment of the adjusted service certificates, which under the original agreement were to become payable in 1945:

Hurley, N. Y., Dec. 14, 1932.
Hon. Wright Patman, Member of Congress from Texas, Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir: I listened attentively to your address tonight over the radio on "Service Certificates" and I am rather proud to say that I agree with no single part of it.

If you are right when you say that for the government to print $2,000,000,000 of paper money and give it to holders of "Service Certificates" would tend to promote prosperity, then for the government to print $4,000,000,000 and give it to ex-soldiers would be twice as beneficial; and should four or five times this sum be showered on those who were called on to do no more than their decent duty, why then prosperity and happiness would dwell in the land forever.

If the cure for this depression is the printing press, why not have the government print a few tons of paper money and give it to the Salvation Army workers, Knights of Columbus members, Y. M. C. A. workers and members of the Red Cross and Masons, who did their decent duty in the World War? Why limit the government's gifts to but 3,550,000 ex-soldiers, when we know that America's efforts in the World War was the total sacrifice and devotion of its one hundred and twenty million people? And, sir, may I add that the man in public life who will first make a political issue of this idea will earn the undying gratitude of all Americans now living and millions yet unborn. He could be president.

In your radio address you did not tell your listeners just what these "Service Certificates" were, or how they were computed. I believe you know they were computed on the basis of one dollar for each day's service of the soldier in this country and one dollar and twenty-five cents for each day served overseas, plus 4 1/2 per cent interest on this sum for twenty-five years from 1924 and payable in 1945. I am sorry your time on the air was so short that you did not mention this, because then you could not have been accused of covering up the facts.

You did say, sir, that about 75 per cent of those holding "Service Certificates" had cashed them in for loans up to the present time, but you did not say that the loan value of any of these "Service Certificates" in 1930 was greater than the amount of compensation due the ex-soldier in 1924, when the adjusted compensation service act became a law. Therefore, if the government were to pay these certificates today it would be paying more than double what was now due. Do you think this would be honest for the government to do, for the ex-soldiers to take and for the public to allow? For your information, I served in the army from April 12, 1917, to October 20, 1919 and have been a member of the American Legion since our local post was formed at Kingston, N. Y. My resignation will follow immediately. When the American Legion will live up to the preamble to its constitution I will be proud to be a member. I belong to the Americans—"the Legion"—belongs to its members.

Respectfully yours,
R. L. THOMPSON

In accordance with the sentiment expressed in his letter to Representative Patman, Mr. Thompson has tendered his resignation as a member of Kingston Post No. 150, American Legion, the same to take effect immediately. He states in his letter of resignation, "I agree thoroughly with the preamble of the constitution of the American Legion, therefore I cannot agree with the actions of the Legion as it is today."

Georgia Clamors for Burns of "Fugitive From Justice" Fame

Robert Elliott Burns Who Wrote "I Am a Fugitive From a Chain Gang," Best Seller and Picture Play Held in New Jersey Jail.

Newark, N. J., Dec. 15 (AP).—Georgia law today reached out for Robert Burns, twice-escaped convict, as the author and hero of a "best seller" awarded arraignment on a fugitive charge in Newark police court.

Burns, who attained nationwide fame by the book and motion picture based on his experiences—"I Am a Fugitive From a Chain Gang"—was arrested here last night. Almost immediately a member of the Georgia Prison Commission, said Georgia would do everything possible to return Burns to the custody of that state.

Counsel for Burns, however, promised a fight to prevent extradition and word was awaited from Governor A. Harry Moore to learn what action he would take. Previously he was quoted as telling the fugitive he would aid him when and if it were necessary.

News of the arrest, engineered by Police Chief James McCall, came too late last night to reach Mr. Moore for comment.

Did Not Hide.

Burns had made no apparent effort to hide, and although he was known to have been in New Jersey more than two years there had been no request for his arrest. Judge Vivian L. Stanley, a member of the Georgia Prison Commission, said an attorney would be engaged in New Jersey to fight for the return of the prisoner.

Charles Handler, Burns' lawyer, and the Rev. Vincent Burns, his brother, who has interested many influential persons in the case and who sought a Georgia pardon before Burns' second escape in 1930, visited the prisoner at headquarters before he was put behind bars for the night.

Worked On Newspaper.

Burns alighted from a Pittsburgh bus on September 7, 1930, only a few days after he had escaped from the Troup county, Ga., prison camp, and has lived in this vicinity since that time. He worked on a Newark newspaper until the paper stopped publication.

Then he found a variety of other jobs, among them that of a dynamiter at a copper refinery in Chrome. After that, he decided to write his experiences. The result is well-known as both the book and motion picture have turned national attention to the hero-author and to the Georgia prison system.

Now he operates a small store in East Orange, and before his arrest was a familiar figure in downtown Newark where he was taken into custody.

LEGISLATURE RESTORES NEW YORK CITY'S CREDIT

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 15 (AP).—New York's lame duck legislature, concluding its extraordinary session in tempestuous fashion early today, took drastic action to restore the credit of New York city and reorganize the city government by passing a series of bills all of which were recommended by President-elect Roosevelt.

Swinging the law-making machine into high gear about midnight, the legislature not only met the demands of New York city's bankers, creditors by authorizing city salary cuts and budget revision, but ground out bills to strengthen the financial position of four hard pressed upstate municipalities.

Not without open resentment and charges of "dictatorial powers by the banks," however, did the lawmakers come to the aid of New York city whose officials asked for the special session.

Chicago, Dec. 15 (AP).—A means of discovering whether a person is truly right or left handed has been developed by the opticians and engineers.

Its purpose was explained today by Carl W. Zersen, of the Chicago Lighting Institute, at a show sponsored by the Institute and the Cook County Optometric Association.

"Medical science has discovered that a naturally left handed child tends to become self conscious, starts to stammer, or develops an inferiority complex if teachers or parents insist on his writing with the right hand," Zersen said.

"We have discovered that if a person is left handed, he also is 'left eyed.' That provides a means of learning definitely whether a child is right or left minded."

Supervisors Slash $1,000,000 From County Budget for 1933

Marlborough Man Awarded $7,000

Partial Loss of Hearing, Impaired Memory and Skull Fracture as Result of Being Hit by Auto Assailed at That Amount by Newburgh Supreme Court Jury.

The Newburgh News of Wednesday says:

Partial loss of hearing and impairment of memory, resulting from a fractured skull received in a motor accident, is worth $7,000 in the opinion of a supreme court jury, which, in Justice Morschauer's court in Newburgh late Tuesday afternoon awarded it to William Thomas, 58, Marlborough carpenter, after debating exactly one hour.

The defendant is George Adie of East Orange, whose car, driven by his son, George B., 21, ran down Thomas on Route 9-W near Marlborough on the night of November 13, 1931. Henry Hirschberg appeared for plaintiff, and J. S. Carter for defendant.

Thomas was struck while carrying a trunk from a neighbor's house across the road to his own home. The defense sought to refute his claim that his common-law wife, Nellie, was walking at his side carrying a lighted lantern.

The Adies, bound for Saugerties, contended that Thomas, his vision blinded by the trunk on his shoulders, walked directly into the left side of their car.

Dr. James A. Donovan, a defense expert, told of examining Thomas on December 5, removing a quantity of wax from Thomas's ears, and the latter declared: "That is much better."

In direct contradiction of Dr. C. C. Zacharie of Marlborough, the plaintiff's expert witness, Dr. Donovan denied anything is wrong with Thomas's hearing. He would not deny that Thomas had suffered a fractured skull, however, or that his memory might be affected.

Seizures And Arrests Made In Eight Places

Including four in Poughkeepsie and two in Newburgh, Kingston prohibition office investigators made arrests and seizures in eight places Wednesday.

The Poughkeepsie arrests, alleged whiskey being seized in each instance, were: Thomas Severino at 22-A Washington street; William Frazier at 9 Catharine street; Sam Palick at 121 Main street; Arthur Jackson at 118 Church street. All were arraigned before Commissioner Platt on charges of sale and possession and with the exception of Jackson held for district court in $1,000 bail each. Jackson was held for a hearing later.

Alleged whiskey and home brew were seized at 266 Washington street, Newburgh, and Joseph Mangias arrested. At 2 South Water street, Newburgh, Nate Hoffman was arrested and alleged whiskey and beer seized. Both were held for arraignment before Commissioner Northrop in Newburgh, on charges of sale and possession.

At 35-27 West Main street, Wappingers Falls, George Teator was arrested and alleged apple and rye whiskey, gin and beer seized. He was held for arraignment before Commissioner Platt on charge of possession and sale.

John Kolenda, who was arrested at Hillburn, on route 17, charged with possession and sale, was committed to the Ulster county jail, to await a hearing before Commissioner Connolly today. Alleged whiskey, gin, wine, hard cider and home brew were seized.

Confesses Brutal Murder of Parents

Newton, Mass., Dec. 15 (AP).—Charles Jonah, 58, Newtonville carpenter, and his wife, Amanda, 60, were found slain in their home today and a half hour later, police said, their son, Robert, 19, confessed to the slayings.

Police quoted young Jonah as saying he had killed his mother to save her further suffering from an illness and had then killed his father to save him from the anguish that would follow the death of his wife.

Police said young Jonah signed a confession to the double slaying and in it said he had attacked his parents with a hammer as they lay sleeping about 4 o'clock this morning. He then cut their throats with a razor and smashed his left wrist with a blow of the hammer, according to the slayings.

Robert was placed under a police guard at the Newton hospital where his condition was said to be not serious.

Ulster's 1933 Budget is $966,138.20 Less Than in 1932—

Total is $741,178.24 for 1933—Budget for 1932 Was $1,707,316.44—Highway Fund for 1932 Alone Exceeded Entire Budget for 1933.

Slashing nearly $1,000,000 from the 1933 tax budget for the county of Ulster the supervisors Wednesday evening adopted a tax budget for 1933 which is considerably less than half the budget for the present year. The 1933 budget is $741,178.24. The budget for the present year was $1,707,316.44.

The 1933 budget as adopted Wednesday evening is $966,138.20 less than the 1932 budget which was adopted in December of 1931 by the board.

Throughout the country there has been a demand during the past few months for a reduction of taxation. Many communities have reduced taxes by reducing expenditures but Ulster county challenges the country in reduction of its budget for the coming year. For some time past there has been a demand by Taxpayers' Associations for a substantial reduction of taxes at this time and the Ulster County Taxpayers' Association through its spokesman, Herbert Sears, appeared before the board a few days ago and asked the supervisors to reduce the tax budget to $800,000. By carefully paring every item and every department of excess expenditures and by even taking a 10% reduction in salary for themselves the supervisors have met the challenge of the Taxpayers' Association and beat the mark which the taxpayers' groups set. In order to do this every county official in 1933 will take a 10% reduction in salary. The county road appropriation has been limited to $50,000, which is matched by an equal amount from the state but in the appropriation is included an item of $100,000 for bridges in the county.

Summary of Budget. The summary of the budget for 1933 is as follows:

For the General Fund	$ 261,151.37
For the Poor Fund	162,859.00
For the Highway Fund	317,157.87
Total	$ 741,178.24

The 1932 budget was:
General Fund	$ 553,515.05
For the Poor Fund	273,553.56
For the Highway Fund	$ 880,207.73
Total	$ 1,707,316.44

The Highway Fund for 1932 alone exceeded the entire budget as adopted for 1933.

When Clerk Henry R. DeWitt had concluded reading the estimates and had announced the 1933 budget figures there was loud applause from the supervisors, every one of whom has been striving this year to keep his requirements down to the minimum in order that a substantial reduction in taxes might result but few realized the extent to which the budget was to be cut.

The report of the committee on appropriations was read and placed on file and later a resolution was adopted approving the budget and providing for the necessary tax levy. The report of the committee was as follows:

To the Board of Supervisors of Ulster County:
Gentlemen: Your Committee on Appropriations respectfully reports that in its opinion, the following appropriations will be necessary to meet the expenditures of this County for the ensuing fiscal year in payment of:

- Contributions required by law to be made by tax upon this County for the expenses of the State Government, of the Third Judicial District and of the Third Military District, or by law and Act of this Board for other purposes extraneous to County government.

Pythians Elect Officers At Meet

At the annual meeting of Franklin Lodge, No. 27, Knights of Pythias, officers for the ensuing year were elected. Every one of the newly elected officers has occupied the highest office of chancellor commander in the past. This was the fifty-second annual meeting, as Franklin Lodge was organized in 1879 and has been one of the banner lodges of the state.

The officers elected are: Chancellor commander, Palmer Canfield; vice-chancellor, Fred DuBois; prelate, Edward H. Schepmoes; keeper of records and seal, Walter T. Elliott; master of finance, William H. Hiel; master of exchange, Guy C. Crosby; master of work, Jay W. Hildenbury; inner guard, Ira H. Hadel; outer guard, Jasper Kelder; trustee for three years, William S. Hogan.

The Knights of Pythias is making a special objective in this state this year to prevent any of its members being unemployed or in distress. Grand Chancellor Willard Kent, who is the county judge of Cortland county, has issued a proclamation calling upon every lodge to put forth a special effort to relieve every member in need of assistance. In the proclamation he states:

"What greater pleasure could warm and satisfy the heart of a Pythian than the happy knowledge that he had performed some deed of service which had brought a smile of hope to the face of some Pythian in distress? With the winter upon us, it is imperative that not one of those who knelt with us at the altar of Pythian friendship should be in need for himself and his family without our extending assistance. The present conditions must not interfere with the stability of the homes of our Pythian brothers if we can possibly help. It is the bounden duty of each subordinate lodge to minister unto the sick and those of its membership in distress. The chancellor commander, especially, with the assistance of his relief committee, should actually visit the needy of his lodge and should make such recommendations for relief as conditions show are necessary. Whenever this work is done conscientiously and thoroughly by the officers of our subordinate lodges, I am confident that the results will redound to the benefit of Pythianism and to the relief of distressed brothers."

Tom Berry, a rancher whose cattle graze over 30,000 acres, will occupy the governor's chair in South Dakota for the next two years. Shown here in his ranch togs, he will take office January 8.

MANY JAILED IN ENGLAND FOR DEBT

Increase During Depression Brings Demand for Probe.

London.—There are 24,000 persons in British jails to prison for debt every year. They constitute more than 45 per cent of the 60,000 receptionists to prison, and public opinion is rising daily against such a system, writes William Hillman in Universal Service.

"If it were possible, without weakening the authority of the courts," says Sir John Gilmour, home secretary, "to reduce the number of persons sent to prison for non-payment of sums of money, every one would welcome such reform."

"A very large proportion of those sent to prison for debt," adds Sir John Gilmour, "are sentenced for non-payment of fines or for failure to comply with wife maintenance and affiliation orders and other court orders for payment."

Miss Margery Fry, a well-known authority on prisons, thinks that a good case has been made out for a government inquiry into the system of imprisonment for debt.

"Debtor prisoners," she states, "are liable to varying sentences. Imprisonment purges some classes of debt, but not all. Debtor prisoners greatly decreased in numbers during the war years, but have been steadily rising since, and follow with remarkable fidelity the curve of unemployment."

"The state seems to imprison not for poverty, but unwillingness to pay, yet the relation between the two is too close for mere accident. It is not likely that obstinacy goes up and down with unemployment, whereas it is certain that poverty does."

In Britain, if a man is sent to prison for non-payment of his municipal taxes, then imprisonment for a certain term wipes out the debt. But in the case of government taxes, however long the term, the liability still remains existent.

Federal Agents Probe Car Stealing Racket

Washington.—A racket which has sprung up with surprising celerity in the last few years—that of stealing automobiles on a gigantic scale—is causing federal investigators no little concern.

If an automobile is stolen by one of a ring of thieves which operates in large cities, chances of retrieving it are slender.

But if it is taken by a youth desirous of having a thrilling joy ride, it is probable that the car will later be found abandoned along a road or in a side street, unharmed.

These are the conclusions of R. George Harvey, chief of the United States bureau of investigation. His agents investigated thefts of more than 200 cars since the first of the year.

Federal authorities have been drawn into the search for stolen automobiles under the Dyer act, which provides a five-year penalty for transporting stolen machines from one state to another.

Information has been uncovered by the agents which shows there are several powerful rings in operation in large cities throughout the East. Recent investigations disclosed that one of these rings is located near Philadelphia. These rings make a systematic business of the theft of cars.

Soldier of Fortune Is Again Seeking Action

El Paso, Texas.—Tracy Richardson, famous soldier of fortune, who declares he used to earn as high as $250 a day for his work as a machine gunner, for mowing down Latin-American soldiers during revolutions, would like to see a return of the "good old days."

"Now," he says, "when trouble boils up a first class gunner only gets $10 to $15 a day for his work."

But even so, Richardson expressed a desire to get back in the "harness" again. During the World war he was a major flyer. In addition to being a machine gun expert.

Submarine Mountain Is Found in Pacific Ocean

Santa Cruz, Calif.—A huge submarine mountain, more than a mile high, has been discovered in the ocean 30 miles west of this city by the crew of the geologic survey boat Guide, which has been making soundings near here. A huge crater, 1,000 feet deep, was located some time ago. The top of the mountain is approximately 900 fathoms, or 5,400 feet, under the surface.

Ban on Hats 1,873 Years Old Is Lifted

London.—St. Paul's has raised a scriptural ban made 1,873 years ago. Hatless women are now allowed to worship in the cathedral for the first time since it was built. In his epistle to the Corinthians St. Paul decreed that "every woman that prayeth or prophesieth with her head uncovered dishonoureth her head."

Although no definite ruling has been made on this point, in the future Cathedral authorities will not expect women with uncovered heads to leave when services commence. Vendors will not ask hatless women who wish to attend the service to arrange a handkerchief over their heads as they formerly did.

Empty Your Call Bladder

And You'll Feel Like a Billion Dollars!

Emptying the bladder is a most important part of the body's health. It is the only way to get rid of the waste matter that accumulates in the bladder. If you do not empty your bladder, the waste matter will build up and cause a variety of ailments. It is important to empty your bladder every time you feel the need to do so. This is the only way to keep your bladder healthy and to feel like a billion dollars.

Influence

It is a stern fact to realize that the well-being and happiness of every home is terribly dependent on each of its members. One false note destroys the chime. When the prodigal closes the home door behind him, he shakes the very roof tree. It is not his empty chair he leaves behind; he leaves also bowed heads, broken hearts, and embittered lives.—E. Garrett.

Mark Sparrows of Port Jervis, and although private, were largely attended by many associates who held him in high esteem. Among those in attendance was Bruce Bennett, of the New Paltz Normal faculty, an old classmate of Mr. Gillette, who recited Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar." Flowers were profuse and beautiful. Honorary bearers were members of the Knights of Pythias and Odd Fellows. The Odd Fellows conducted services at the Gillette home on Tuesday. Interment was in Courtland cemetery, Peekskill.

CHRISTMAS SERVICES AT REDEEMER CHURCH

One of the most impressive and best attended services of the year at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer is the Christmas Dawn Service which is held on Christmas morning at six o'clock. Many a skeptic who has doubted that people will go to church so early has been surprised, upon attending the service, to find the church filled. This year Prof. Stine, the choirmaster, is planning to present an unusually fine Christmas program of music. The "Hallelujah Chorus" from "The Messiah" will be sung by the choir of 25 voices. Two unusual numbers will also be sung. They are two old carols arranged by Dr. Dickinson. The congregation is urged to be on time to hear the choir sing "Silent Night" in the narthex before the Processional.

The usual 10:45 morning service will be omitted. There will be no service December 26. At 7:30 p. m. on Christmas Day the Sunday School service will be held. There will be a pantomime of the story, "Why the Chimes Rang," followed by exercises by the scholars in the Sunday school rooms. As in former years each scholar will bring a White Gift of food for needy families.

The Senior Luther League will go out carolling Christmas Eve beginning at 9 o'clock. They will sing at the homes of the shut-ins of the congregation.

A Watchnight Service will be held on New Year's Eve at 11 p. m.

The following officers were elected by the Senior Luther League: Olive Kyer, president; Bertham Kolts, vice president; Carolyn Port, corresponding secretary; Anna Greenburgh, recording secretary; Kenneth Cudney, treasurer.

The Luther League decided to present an offering to the congregation. On New Year's Eve they will hold a Progressive Party.

On Friday evening of this week the Young Men's Brotherhood will elect officers. Nominations were made at the last meeting.

Prof. Frederick Richens, organist of the church, will play the Tower Chimes on Christmas Eve and before the Dawn service.

Fashions by Eleanor GunnAgain We're Gift-Minded

New York—If you would be very tricky, wear your veil under your hat—that is, if you are wearing one of those Lalo veils, as you probably are. They are a tremendous help in making the diminutive hats easier to wear. If a black veil is not flattering, wear a brown one, even though your hat be black. If you are intent on Christmas, have you thought how welcome a half dozen or so assorted veils might be as a gift?

If you go in for extremes, the veil may be worn lower, even to the chin if you like it that way. It is also quite correct to throw the veil back over the hat. This has a tendency to soften the silhouette so that it becomes dressy enough for that dinner date straight from the office. An ornament is a wondrous help, too—and earrings.

Another suggestion for the puzzled Christmas shopper is that summer eventually returns and your girl friend might be greatly delighted with a bathing suit. The shops are ready with the new collections. There are always enough people who go south or swim in indoor pools to keep the stocks up-to-date. Novelty fabrics are much to the fore, wool and cotton still lead over silks.

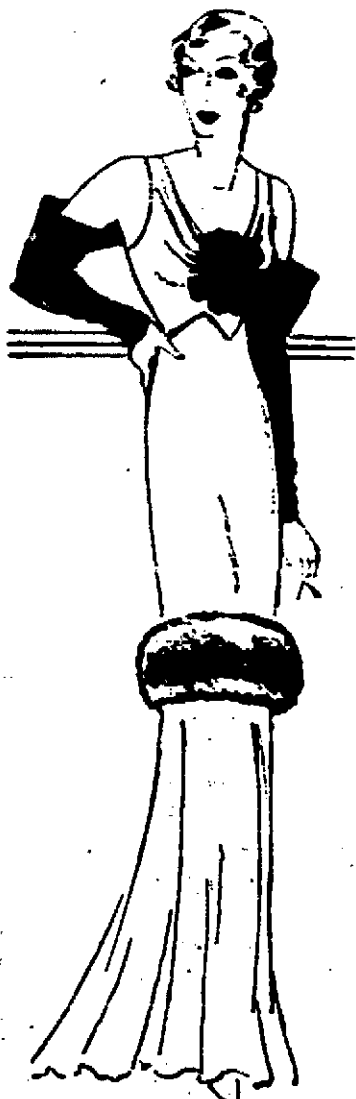

The panorama of beach fashions extends beyond swim suits. Pajamas are not "out" by any means. The one-piece with extreme back or the separate trousers seem most important. Turtle neck tops or sweater blouses to pajamas offer a nice occasional change from the prevalent extreme backs. The mannish influence in trouser fashions is still being emphasized.

If such things seem too far in the future to interest you now, there are the even more colorful winter sports togs.

DID YOU KNOW THAT

Candlelight, that indescribable light shade between pale peach and eggshell, hyacinth blue (not hyacinth lavender), crayon yellow and chalk white are emphasized in displays of southern finery.

This gown, fashioned of beige rough crepe, hands its tunic in a fur that has the appearance of subtly dyed fitch. The brown note is repeated in the velvet bowtie, also in the glove-like sleeves.

(Copyright, 1932, by Fairchild)

Reds and Purples for a Notable Wedding Party

New York—Most unusual was the choice of colorings in the wedding party costumes worn by Blanche Hooker and her attendants for her marriage to John D. Rockefeller, 3d.

Gowns worn by the bridesmaids repeated details of the bride's dress; the eight attendants being garbed in American beauty red and surfaced satin, while the maid-of-honor wore grape juice purple.

An innovation was the wearing of short veils, instead of hats, by the attendants. These waist-length tulle veils, repeating the deep blue-red tones of the gowns, were worn in simple fashion, falling from a narrow band of ribbon placed about the top of the capiture.

The deep wine red and purple repeated details of the bride's dress; tones were favorites among guests assembled at the church.

OUR DAILY PATTERN

A New and Stylish Daytime Frock 7710. This is an excellent model for business or general daytime wear. As pictured it was developed in cotton tweed in a brown checked pattern. It is also suggested for velvet, broadcloth or crepe. The waist is cut high at the neck and finished with a small boyish collar. The high button closing is new. The skirt has straight lines, but added fullness is given in the flare godets inserted in the front panel seams. A close fitting sleeve and straight belt complete a very trim and neat model.

Designed in 5 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. Size 38 will require 2-3 yards of 34 inch material. Collar, belt and sleeve facings of contrasting material will require 3/4 yard in the 39 inch width. The width of the dress at the lower edge with fullness extended is 2 1/4 yards.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Book of Fashions, Winter 1932-1933. Send 15c in silver or stamps for our WINTER BOOK OF FASHIONS containing designs of Ladies' Misses' and Children's Patterns, also Hints to the Home Dressmaker.

College Women Hear Of Indian Lore

The Kingston College Women's Club held its December meeting on Tuesday evening. Four new members were accepted. Mrs. Lear, B. S. graduate of William and Mary College and Columbia University; Miss Katherine Bestle, B. S., and New York State College for Teachers; Mrs. Ida B. Sherman, B. A., Barnard College and Miss Iona Kinrade, B. A., M. A., Barnard College and New York State College for Teachers.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. Earl Bates, professor of Cornell University and chief of fourteen different Indian tribes of North America. The speaker who is an authority on Indian life and lore, told most interestingly of the coming of the Red Man to America from the foothills of the Himalayas, giving the story of this long trek in the words of the legends of the different Indian tribes. As for those who now inhabit the Hudson valley, they are the fourth state of mankind to dwell here. First was the Amerindian man who followed the ice sheet north, next the Esopus Indians, then the Mohawk Indian and lastly the white man. New York State is still a possession of the Indian in the sense that he can hunt or fish at any season in any place (even the streets of Kingston) and no one can stop him, because he reserved for himself the right to do so as long as "The sun shines, the grass grows green and water flows down hill."

The very fact that the Indians were able to cross two semi-tropical grasslands of Central America to produce corn and then successfully transfer that plant from its warm native habitat to the rigorous climate of this state marks them as a great people. The Indians of this state raised three different varieties of corn, 14 varieties of beans and two varieties of squashes.

They were also well advanced in social and political life as well as in agriculture. The women of the five nations started to vote about 1600 and on the Onondaga reservation the men do not vote yet. Even earlier, about 1550, the five tribes of New York State had organized a League of Nations regarding their hunting and fishing domains and this league is still in operation, and honored by the 6,500 Indians living in this state. There are also treaties extant between the white men and Indians under one of which the state government has to give each Indian on the St. Regis reservation four yards of calico on August first each year. In closing Dr. Bates told several charming Indian legends.

After the lecture refreshments were served. The hostesses for the evening were Miss Helen Elmendorf, chairman, Mrs. Bertha Donahue, Mrs. Clarence Damm, Miss Ada Fuller, Mrs. Floyd Garrison, Miss Martha Gold, Mrs. Robert Groves, Mrs. N. H. Fuller.

Beware the Cough or Cold that Hangs On

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

Einstein, Heading For Princeton Post, Has Own Ideas On Effective Teaching

By TOM WILHELM.

Berlin, (AP).—Children who blame the teacher when school grades bring reproaches at home, have a stout defender in Herr Professor Doctor Albert Einstein, German physicist and mathematician.

The renowned author of the theories of relativity and the unified field, as he was preparing to sail for America December 10, was revealed as one having his own ideas about teaching.

O. K. To Blame Teacher

He may put them into effect in classes at Princeton where he is to become head of the school of mathematics in a new institute for advanced learning after he has completed some work at Mt. Wilson observatory in California.

For example, he agrees with the children that sometimes the teacher is to blame; he thinks too many of the present day school curricula are clogged with driftwood; he favors vocational training as a fundamental basis for building future instruction.

Revises History Study

And what's more, he thinks four hours a day is long enough to keep pupils in school—provided they spend two hours more doing homework.

In a book by Alexander Moszkowski explaining these Einstein ideas, the scientist is pictured as maintaining a halfway position between the old form of schooling, and that of the ultra-modernist ideas and as holding that too much time is wasted on non-essentials.

He feels, for example, that history instruction is, in the main, time thrown away; hence, to accommodate his planned 4-hour school day, he would jettison or cut down the time allotted to history.

"I don't think it's so unfortunate," he said, "if the pupils know nothing of Alexander the Great, or a dozen other plunderers. 'World history' is called, but the largest part of the teacher's work is little else than a minute, detailed recitation compressed into a wearisome table."

Prof. Albert Einstein, of relativity fame, is expected soon to take up his duties as head of mathematics in a new institute of advanced learning at Princeton. He sailed from Germany Dec. 10 and, traveling via the Panama Canal, goes first to Mount Wilson observatory in California.

"As soon as the pupil learns a little of the gray past, he is spared Cyrus and Artaxerxes and given a smattering of Archimedes, or inventions and discoveries in order to avoid winding up the course as a sequence of bloody adventures," the professor sums up history instructions.

Prof. Einstein recommends obligatory vocational instruction in some practical vocation, the pupil to be free to choose which trade he wishes to follow.

"This hand work would bring to the pupil a preparation for the higher training and it is not meant to be a golden goal. Rather it would broaden and solidify the fundamentals upon which he must stand as a moral personality," the savant believes.

The Einstein theory of school procedure, Moszkowski says, would not be directed at turning out future lawyers, teachers, book writers or officials.

Men, he believes, should be the school's goal, not skull existences.

World Wide Guild Meeting.

The December meeting of the Junior World Wide Guild of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church will be held in the church parlors on Friday evening, December 16, at 7:15 o'clock. Interesting committee reports will be given and several new members will be taken in. The study period with a lesson taken from "Indian Americans" will be in charge of Miss Janet Webb and Miss Elmore Brower. The meeting will close with a social hour. All members are urged to attend and to give a cordial welcome to those joining the Guild.

Judgment
Deliberate long before thou consecrate a friend; and when thy impartial judgment concludes him worthy of thy bosom, receive him joyfully and entertain him wisely; impart thy secrets boldly, and mingle thy thought with his; be it thy very self; and use him so. If thou firmly believe him faithful, thou makest him so.—Quarles.

Slippers of Destiny

By JUNE WATSON

By McClure Newspaper Syndicate, Inc. Service

RAYMOND found the package on his table when he went up to his room for the Fleming's dance. He had thought that he would give up dancing, but this was a particular occasion, Billy Fleming having a birthday and his wife insisting on a real old-time party.

So Raymond had hired him to his favorite shoe shop and been fitted to dancing pumps, and the oblong box testified to their arrival at the last minute. Raymond dressed leisurely, and when he had finished he sat on the oblong box and opened it.

There he stopped aghast. Instead of a pair of shiny patent leather pumps, he found nestling in the white tissue paper a tiny pair of high-heeled slippers, frivolous cloth of gold trifle that glistened in the light.

"Hang it all—of course I can't wear these," he told the world in a complaining tone. "Of all the absurd mistakes—well, Mrs. Billy, you can count one dancing man out." He put the little slippers away in his chiffonier, smiling at them as he did so. Some little duffy thing might be sighing for those very slippers, but she could not help smiling at sight of his new and shining pumps when they reached her!

"Not dancing?" asked Mrs. Billy, frowning at him.

He told her that, lacking dancing shoes, he had ordered them and been disappointed in their delivery.

"You are like poor Nellie Warren—she says she received an enormous pair of men's shoes instead of her own—she is wearing an old pair and is as cross as can be. Go find her and dance with her, fellow sufferers should console each other."

Raymond skirted the dancers and found a place comfortable for wall-flowers. He wondered which girl would prove to be Nellie Warren. He rather liked her name, simple and unassuming, but she would have been splendid in gold slippers!

He fell to watching the dancing feet of the girls, noting the dainty footgear until his eyes were dazzled with the procession of silver and colored ones. Then he started, for tripping along in perfect time to Billy Fleming's ponderous feet, were a tiny pair of shabby gray slippers—they were emergency shoes, he knew, for they were worn with golden hued silk hose and a golden tissue frock.

The girl herself—she caught a glimpse of a dark, bewitching face, golden hued eyes, a flash of rose color in cheeks and lips, and she was gone. She might not be his Cinderella of the slippers, but she was undoubtedly a wonder-girl.

"Hello!" bellowed Fleming's voice beside him. "Do take care of Miss Warren—Raymond. Arch Raymond—you've heard of him. Nellie; can't dance tonight because he hasn't any shoes. I am called away to the phone." He drifted away into the crowd and Raymond smiled down at the wonder-girl whom Fate had set to him.

"Aren't you going to dance?" she asked as her little feet kept time to the alluring music.

He glanced down at his feet. "I might try—I'm a clumsy beggar at my best," he apologized.

"Such a pity," she said teasingly after awhile as they paused for breath; "if you only had the stunning pair of patent leather pumps that came to me instead of my own darling golden shoes—you couldn't dance a bit better than you do."

"Is that a compliment or otherwise?" "It isn't otherwise!" she laughed.

Later in the evening they had danced together so often that people were smiling indulgently at Arch Raymond. His appearance at a dance was a mark of signal triumph for his hostess, and that he should be worshipping at the shrine of penniless Nellie Warren was a social triumph for the girl.

They had supper together, and when the huge birthday cake was cut, it was Nellie Warren who found a ring in her slice. "I've had the most delightful time," she sighed as they said good night.

"I shall never forget it," he said gravely, "and perhaps, tomorrow you will let me come and bring Cinderella's slippers."

"You had them?" she gasped.

He nodded. "Mine went to you, and yours to me. If I had not seen you—I stopped, for he was saying too much for a short acquaintance."

"I may come," he asked instead.

"Of course—I am staying with the Flemings."

So he went home—back to his room where the golden slippers were locked in his chiffonier. Suppose he did take them out of their wrappings and reverently kiss each bit of glistening gold—were they not the shoes of destiny—had not their owner danced her way into his heart? And she—had not their eyes met?

He put the shoes away, his young eyes dreaming.

He knew that love had come at last.

A second goal will be to "secure effective participation in constructive action by citizens of widely differing points of view but with a common interest" in reducing educational costs. In addition to educational leaders, the President will invite representatives of labor and leading farm organizations. Invitations were to have gone forward today, but a delay was encountered in engraving them.

Bath as Religious Rite.

The first great health officer known to history was Moses. Moses taught the Israelites sanitation and the values of bathing, after their flight out of Egypt. The leader of a theocracy, he made holy laws out of what today would be city ordinances. He had to, in order to get them obeyed.

As a sanitation expert Moses made his people wash—often. The religious rites of bathing have been passed down to us in common custom to this day. Water is used as an outward symbol of spiritual cleansing—Detroit Free Press.

Convenient Oxygen.

In Germany "oxygen bricks" are put out in glass jars, designed for use in aquariums. A brick sells for the equivalent of 15 cents. The oxygen is "chemically bound" together, though the name of the binder is not mentioned. It is claimed that these bricks yield 500 times their volume of the life-supporting gas. The bricks may be safely sent by mail. The oxygen substance is not preserved under pressure, hence there is no danger of explosion. Test tube shots have pierced the containers without exploding the contents.

Sunny California Buried in Snow

Los Angeles, Dec. 15 (AP)—Weather history was in the making today as stories of death and near tragedy came out of the snow-clad regions of "sunny southern California."

A man froze to death in the Palo Verde Valley, adjoining the Imperial Valley, where for summer temperatures of 120 degrees are not uncommon.

Two mining men, Robert M. Ray and Arthur W. Johns, were missing in Holcombe Valley since Saturday, when they left Los Angeles to inspect a mining property. A blizzard swept the valley Saturday night.

Three residents of Los Angeles attributed their survival in a 24-hour fight against freezing to death in the Big Bear district to the valor of a police dog and the warmth supplied them by the dog's body.

The storm subsided last night, leaving snows to a depth of more than three feet in the mountains and thoroughly drenched lowlands. Frosts followed in the wake of the storm, which was accompanied by unprecedented cold weather for so early in December.

William C. Kingman was elected president. The other officers elected were: Vice president, Frank McCannell; secretary, Harold Davis and treasurer, Byron Stevens.

The organization meeting was presided by the serving of a supper by a committee of men of the church. It was decided to hold the next supper and meeting of the club in the chapel in January.

Former Corporation Counsel Harry M. Fleming was the speaker of the evening and delivered an interesting address on world problems.

Following the business meeting the men of the club were organized into teams and dart baseball was played.

Business Girls' Closing Season

The Business Girls' Club of the Y. W. C. A. held its final supper before the holiday season on Wednesday evening of this week and several important announcements were given to the members. There will be no supper on Wednesday evening, December 21, but all girls are urged to come to the Y. W. C. A. at 7 o'clock to help with the preparation of materials for the Christmas boxes. The membership class will be omitted next week and will resume its meetings on Wednesday evening, January 4, following the supper on that date. All members of the program committee are urged to be present on January 4 as an important meeting of this committee will be held following the supper to plan the program for the final months of the year. On Thursday evening, December 22, the packing of the Christmas boxes will be undertaken and volunteers were solicited for this work.

Miss Bertha Waterman, chairman of the social service committee, spoke of the many contributions already received for the Christmas cheer project and the club is planning to send out twice as many gifts to the children as it did last year.

Announcement was made of the reaper service which the Schubert Choral Club will hold in the lounge of the Governor Clinton Hotel on Sunday afternoon, December 19, at 3:30 o'clock. There will be no charge for this concert and all members were urged to attend.

Following the supper program the girls held a sewing meeting for service work for the Christmas cheer boxes.

Regrouping Criticized.
Washington, Dec. 15 (AP).—Prospects that President Hoover's plan for regrouping government agencies would become effective dwindled even more today with sharp criticism by Chairman Blingham of the special Senate economy committee.

Paperhangers' Paste

The bureau of standards says that paperhangers' paste may be prepared as follows: To one quart of water add one tablespoonful of powdered alum. Stir flour into the water, stirring continuously, until it has the consistency of dough. Pour in boiling water until the paste turns. Dilute to the desired consistency. A little croscote or carboxylic acid will prevent decomposition.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Dec. 15 (AP).—The stock market larked stamina to carry its rally through a second session today. The advances of the previous session were extended in spots in the first hour, with some issues getting up fractions to a point, but by midday most of the advance had been lost, and the market was sluggish and irregular.

Among stocks which were bought in better volume than most were Allied Chemical, Case, Columbia Gas, Dupont, and Montgomery Ward, all of which pushed ahead from fractions to a point.

American Telephone, however, sagged to show a loss of about a point, as did U. S. Steel Common, which preferred dipped 2. Oils held barely steady, in the face of a cut in mid-continent crude prices.

Buying recommendations made by a prominent investment service, and a number of brokerage houses attracted considerable attention in Wall Street, although opinion remained decidedly mixed. White bullish quarters stirred the weak undertone shown by the market in the past several sessions, and the amount of funds seeking investment as indicated by the demand for highest grade bonds, skeptics still pointed to the low rate of corporate earnings, and the uncertainties surrounding the earnings outlook for the first half of 1933.

Discussing the prospects for 1933 in the monthly bulletin of the Cleveland Trust Co., Col. Ayres said "The problem of trying to forecast the business developments of 1933 is one that involves in large measure the attempt to guess or estimate the degree to which the policies of the new administration at Washington will be formulated with wisdom and its actions guided by sagacity."

France Unable to Act on War Debt

Washington, Dec. 15 (AP).—Ambassador Candel of France gave Secretary Stimson a note today; but there was no immediate word as to its import pending translation and an agreement with France as to the time of publication.

It was learned yesterday from Paris that Ambassador Candel was being instructed to advise the United States that due to the fall of the Herriot ministry that government could not take any action on the debt.

Repeal Group Nears
Agreement on Issue

Washington, Dec. 15 (AP).—The Senate judiciary subcommittee, considering prohibition repeal legislation, neared an agreement today on language for a proposed substitute for the 18th Amendment to include a provision for protection of dry states against liquor imports.

The committee, at its first meeting, went right to work on the task of framing a repeal resolution for submission to the states, but did not take final action.

It spent more than an hour discussing possible phraseology of a clause to protect dry states, and agreed to meet again tomorrow morning.

About the Folks

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Crow of 55 West Chester street, have returned from a short visit to New York City.

Mrs. Margaret Bertrand, who injured her shoulder by a fall on North Front street Saturday evening and who has been at the Kingston Hospital for treatment, has returned to her home at 632 Broadway.

CONDITION OF JOHN MARTIN
SERIOUS AT HOSPITAL HERE

The condition of John, 14 year old son of Policeman and Mrs. James P. Martin, who was injured when the sled on which he was coasting down Ravine street collided with an auto on Tuesday afternoon, is quite serious at the Kingston Hospital where he was removed after the accident.

One side of the boy's leg from the knee to the ankle was torn open, the flesh being stripped downward from the knee to the ankle.

Nickname of Tuckahoe
Traced to Aborigines

"Tuckahoe" is an old nickname for the poor class of people living in southern Virginia, says Pathfinder Magazine. In some sections of the South the term is practically synonymous with "poor white." The word itself is supposed to be derived from an Indian word meaning globular and originally was applied to various bulbous roots used as food by the aborigines in that region.

Chief among the edible bulbous roots so designated were those of the golden club or floating arm and the Virginia waken. But the name also was applied to Virginia truffles, a curious fungus growth found under the soil in the southern states bordering on the Atlantic. The Indians and early settlers were fond of these truffles and generally they located them by following hogs engaged in rooting. In time the term came to signify Indian bread and the inhabitants of lower Virginia were called Tuckahoes because their poverty compelled them frequently to resort to Virginia truffles or Indian bread for sustenance.

Revelry of Halloween
Outdates Christian Era

Halloween and the ceremonies that formerly attended it long antedate Christianity. The chief characteristic in the ancient celebrations of Halloween was the lighting of bonfires. The ancient belief was that on this night, the one night in the year, ghosts and witches were abroad. The main celebration of Halloween was, no doubt, Druidical, because the Druids held great autumn festivals on or about the date of November 1, and lighted great bonfires in honor of the Sun god as a thank offering for the harvest of the year. The Druids also supposed that the wicked souls that had been condemned to live in the bodies of animals were allowed to come forth on the eve of the festival. The custom of lighting bonfires on Halloween night survived until recent years in the highlands of Scotland and in Wales. On the invasion of the Romans certain characteristics of the celebration of Pomona, such as offering of apples and nuts, were introduced into the celebration of the Druids.

Indispensable Top Hat

The history of clothes shows that the wildest ideas have often prevailed. What could be funnier or more startling than the huge, gray fuzzy top hat of 100 years ago. Yet, every gentleman had one. In Californian gold excitement days, the tallest of black silk hats appeared. They were not restricted to the "top" either. Prints and engravings of those days show the whole population arrayed in "tops" and regardless of bottled coats, too.

A tall hat was a guaranty that you were getting along in the world; and no matter how absurd the rest of the costume was, the high hat was imperative; a man's bowery might be falling down over his unpolished shoes, but at the top he was on regis. His hat marked him as one of the elegantes or at least elbow to elbow with them.

AM Can Find Healthful
Recreation in Bowling

What is the best recreation for a man whose brain is upset by business worries?

The answer is "bowling," according to Prof. William G. Anderson, who has outlined a "games diet" for everyone from seven to seventy.

Children between the ages of seven and fourteen, he says, should keep fit by tree-climbing. This develops a boy's torso, leg, hip and arm muscles better than any other game.

Cricket is the ideal game from fourteen to twenty-one. The mental stimulation from making a big score or bowling well does more to develop the boy's muscles than strenuous exercise.

Between twenty-one and thirty-five tennis is the best health-creator. It gives mental stimulation largely because the game provides scope for individuality.

Bowling, says Professor Anderson, is a game for men of all ages. It is the only game a man can play with benefit when he is worried by business or domestic affairs. Obviously the ladies have realized this, for there are now many bowls clubs for women and their membership lists are increasing rapidly.—Boston Globe.

Find Wisconsin Peat Bog
Dates From Glacial Age

An investigation into the origin and development of an age-old peat bog in Wisconsin has been made by experts of the botanical department of the State university. The conclusion reached was that the bog began as a lake in the period when glaciers swept over the state.

The botanists found 25 kinds of fossil pollen, of which ten were significant in determining the history of the bog. A layer of water mosses next to the clay in the deepest part of the bog lent support to the lake theory.

Evidence that the development of the bog was not an uninterrupted process was found in the disclosure of layers of raw peat separated by layers of oxidized peat or muck, indicating striking climatic changes during the long process of formation.

Attractions of Conway

Conway is one of the loveliest and most interesting old towns of Wales, famous for several things, its great tubular bridge, designed by Robert Stephenson; its historic castle, which seems too like the castles in fairy books and giant tales to be real; its memorials of the great struggle between Edward I and Llewellyn, whose statue is in Lancaster square. There are several quaint old houses in the town, one in High street dating from 1300, and their panelled rooms and ornamental ceilings are well worth seeing.

At St. Mary's church the tourist finds in the south porch the grave made famous by Wordsworth's poem, "We Are Seven."

Pavlova's Home Sold

The house where Pavlova lived for many years, Ivy house, North End road, Goldersgreen, London, has been sold. Ivy house has a very beautiful garden. When the dancer acquired the property she gave a "house-warming" party outdoors, and danced a ballad upon the lawn for her guests. She spent hours when at home tending her plants or watching the swans upon the miniature lake. To her friends Pavlova confessed that if she were not a dancer she would be a gardener. She further enhanced the charm of her domain by giving a home in it to a flock of pigeons and two magnificent peacocks.—London Mail.

Lanthanum's Spectra

For the past 70 years scientists throughout the world have been struggling to obtain a complete spectroscopic analysis of lanthanum, the rare element with 57 electrons. This 70-year struggle has ended by workers of our bureau of standards who have determined the wave lengths and relative intensities of more than 1,500 lines of this spectra. They also investigated nearly 500 of these lines in a strong magnetic field. Their success is expected to aid materially in atomic studies, as an analysis of the spectrum releases considerable information on the structure and habits of the atom.

Fulfillment of a Vow

St. Bartholomew's hospital in London, was built as the result of a vow. Eight hundred years ago a courier named Rahere started on a pilgrimage to Rome. Becoming ill during the journey, he vowed to St. Bartholomew that if he were spared he would build a hospital for the poor. He recovered, and in due course the hospital was built, partly by his own hands.

"Bar's," by the way, is the only hospital within the city of London, and the lord mayor and aldermen of the city, while holding office, automatically become governors.

Pittsboro Man's Impromptu

Sir Arthur Smith-Woodward, famous British anthropologist, is exhibiting a bit of flint, a man-made implement of chipped stone, found in Sussex along with fossils of the Pittsboro man, as evidence that human beings built fires in England as early as 1,000,000 years ago. Sir Arthur claims this bit of charred flint is further proof that man lived in at least two widely separated regions on the earth about 1,000,000 years ago, in China and England.

Sorrow

When hearts are overfull they seldom run to speech. When sorrow has broken in on love, love, left alone again, is hesitant and shy, more prone to look and kiss and hold than to meet his wounds with words.—Katherine Cecil Thurston.

WINTER GLOVES IN STRIKING STYLES

Fingering Cuffs and Slip-ons Are Among Newest Types.

The very newest glove, of course, is made of velvet, sometimes plain, sometimes shirred up the arm or used in combination with suede. Brown suede gloves with transparent velvet cuffs are interesting for afternoon wear, while all-velvet shirred ones come in both black and brown. In rare cases velvet is combined with kid.

Slip-ons and pull-ons are still good, with the faring gauntlet cuffs a finger or two ahead in popularity. There is a white novelty glove of velvet, slip-on, with a wide flare toward the top. Suede slip-ons in black or brown have a shirred, flared velvet cuff with a point that reaches well down on the back of the hand.

The two conservative colors, black and brown, are worn more often than any others, but gloves are made in almost any color, especially in the new plain velvet style.

Now the party days are at hand, and of course we must have partied dresses. The wise mother realizes that the charm of these frocks lies in their simplicity and in the evidence of quality apparent in the fabrics and in the discreetly-used trimmings, writes Carolyn T. Radnor-Lewis in Child Life Magazine.

Crepes de chine (the pure-dye, heavier types) and the finer textures in the rough crepes and georgettes have the first call in silks, with the quaint little English prints as alternates. The rayon, silk-and-rayon and cotton-and-rayon novelties are both new and dainty in ruffly, frilly frocks. Handkerchief linen, organdie, and dotted swiss are never superseded in the minds of many fastidious mothers, although, by way of change this season, dancing-school dresses of velveteen should prove as appealing as has the fine wale corduroy for daytime suits and dresses. And very new are the sheer woollens which the younger as well as the older generations are adopting for dress-up occasions.

FLASHES FROM PARIS

Vivid velvet frocks are worn in the evening. Quilted fabrics are used for hats. Voluminous three-quarter capes are fur-bordered.

Satin is cited as being very important. There are many silver button trimmings. Exotic color combinations make new costumes interesting. Elaborate pendant earrings are worn. Epaulets of coq or ostrich grace evening gowns.

Heavy Materials Picked for the Tailored Dress

Materials almost as heavy and thick as the woollens used for coats continue to be favorite media for tailored dresses in Paris. Women are wearing these frocks as they would coat dresses; they use them as knock-about town costumes, without coats, and often without even fur scarfs.

The higher collar is a noticeable mark among dresses of this type. Usually it is a convertible type—one which may be equally graceful when wound tight about the throat, or worn hanging open, giving a lower neckline. Silvers are usually low, fairly tight fitting and of simple design. Skirts are without plaits—since the fabrics are so heavy that plaits and folds would only add bulkiness—but skirts are simply full at the hem.

Newest Costume Jewelry
Is Made From Copper

Copper gloves and gleams in all the newest costume jewelry collections. Handcut bracelets, necklaces, earrings, and breast pins are made of this ruddy toned stuff. New handbags boast clasps and trimmings of copper, while dresses and hats, belts, and even gloves are decorated with copper motifs. Only chromium, a shining silvery metal, can equal the success of copper as a new metal trim.

Red and White

Red and white make a favorite combination for some of the new evening gowns. A white crepe dress is made with a small red cape; another white gown is trimmed with red coq's plumes.

Baseball Magnates In Annual Session

By EDWARD J. NEIL
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, Dec. 15 (AP).—The annual major league meetings need only to approximate today the frantic activity of the baseball magnates during the past 48 hours in order to establish the conclusion of 1932 as the greatest off-season trading climax in baseball history.

The falling arch brigade, some of them crippled by the endless marching, counter-marching, plain and fancy standing-around in hotel lobbies, reached wearily for chairs, but still was full of the lust for barter as the three-day convention came into the home stretch.

So far, counting in post-season deals, every club in the National League and five in the American not only have traded important material but are still eager to keep right on dealing until dragged away from here.

And all in all, the wholesale juggling of the playing rosters in answer to the demands of the faithful for new faces, has been so sensational in spots as to steal most of the thunder from the more pompous dealings of the owners in formal session.

Senators Strengthened

The turnover in ballplayers, led by the "boy managers" of the two leagues, Bill Terry and Joe Cronin, has injected new life into aching ankles of the standing army.

Cronin, with the "Old Fox", Clark Griffith, masterminding at his elbow, put over two deals for the Washington Senators yesterday that popped a few eyes in the lobby and materially enhanced the Senators' chances of overhauling the world champion New York Yankees next season.

Washington sent Sam West and Carl Reynolds, outfielders, Lloyd Brown, southpaw pitcher, and bundle of cash along to the St. Louis Browns in exchange for Goose Goslin, a great hitter and former favorite in the capitol.

Fred Schulte, regular outfielder; and Walter Stewart, one of the finest left-hand pitchers in the league.

Then, when most of the experts and managers had stowed away for the night, the "Old Fox" talked Bucky Harris, manager of the Detroit Tigers, into parting with his left hander, Earl Whitehill, in exchange for Fred "Fip" Marberry, burly right hand relief pitcher.

Whitehill had been on the block since the start of the meetings, and his shift for Marberry, rumored during the day, was less surprising than the first transaction.

Goslin, a .325 hitter, went to the Browns from Washington a couple of years ago in exchange for Heinie Manush, the experts gave Washington all the better of both deals, figuring Goslin a game-busting home-run hitting star and Stewart and Whitehill the types of pitchers who beat the first division clubs consistently.

On hitting and pitching records, the deal with St. Louis figured even-up.

Braves Pay Big

Second in importance was the Boston Braves deal with the San Francisco Missions for two young infield prospects, Albert Wright, second baseman, and Dick Gyselman, third baseman, for $60,000 and Bill Walters, a third sacker.

Cincinnati bought Clarence Blair, former Cub infielder, from Los Angeles, and Irving Plummer, an outfielder, from Wilkes-Barre, Brooklyn purchased Linus Fry, 19-year-old shortstop, from Nashville for 1934 delivery, sending Early Mattingly, right hand pitcher, along as part payment.

Giant Deals

Not content with deals that shipped Freddy Lindstrom to Pittsburgh and Chick Fullis to Philadelphia in exchange for Glen Spencer and George Davis, bunched pitcher Sam Gibson off to the coast with cash in exchange for Pitcher Bill Shores, and before the meetings sent Bill Walker, Jim Mooney, Bob O'Farrell and Ethan Allen to St. Louis for Ray Starr and Gus Mancuso, Manager Terry of the Giants completed one more yesterday and offered half a dozen.

He took Shortstop John (Blondie) Ryan from Buffalo in exchange for infielder Eddie Marshall and cash. He wants to trade Catcher Shanty Hogan to Boston; Second Baseman Hughie Critz to Philadelphia and substitute First Baseman Sam Leslie to Brooklyn.

Charlie Grimm is still searching for a left handed pitcher and may do business with the Braves for Ed Brandt, having filled one great need with a slugging left handed outfielder. Babe Herman, gathered in from the Cincinnati Reds before the meetings in exchange for cash and four pitchers.

Brooklyn needs a first baseman and may turn to Joe Judge of Washington, who is trying to make a trade for himself.

Counting the Chicago White Sox $100,000 purchase of Al Simmons, Jimmy Dykes and Mule Haas from Philadelphia, only three clubs, all in the American League, have not traded since the season closed. Of these Cleveland wants First Baseman Harley Boss from Washington.

No Trades for Yanks or Red Sox

Only the Yankees and the Red Sox, extremes of the American League, have done no business, plan none, and suffer in common but for opposite reasons.

The Yanks already have so much that rivals fear to strengthen them. The Red Sox have so little no one seems interested.

The magnates, for their part, came down to the closing joint meeting today with little or nothing of major importance left in the calendar for definite reasons.

Radio Considered

There was the question of broadcasting regular league games, a sore spot in several cities where owners contend that rival clubs in adjacent territory are reaching out through the air to steal home town fans, but there was no possibility of joint action.

The National League is split 5 to 3 on the question and the American 4 to 4. Unanimous opinion in both leagues is necessary either to approve or bar broadcasting in the joint meeting.

Unanimous approval in the separate meetings of the two major leagues during the past two days of the motion to advance from June 15 to May 15 the date for granting rosters to the 23 player limit has forecast approval of the measure without argument in the joint session.

Other propositions before the joint session are the American League's suggestion that the clubs engaged in the World Series be allowed to determine whether they wish to sell series tickets singly or in blocks; routine amendments to rules; and general discussion of other problems, known only to the magnates.

Stone Ridge Stars Bow To Clowns, 20-29

Pete Bruck's Stone Ridge All Stars who were riding the crest of the popularity wave as the result of six straight victories were dumped into the trough by the Detroit Clowns Wednesday night at B. W. S. Hall, High Falls, where approximately 300 fans saw their favorites overpowered in every stage of the court war which ended 29-20 with the Poutymen on the short end of the tally.

Scooping up a big lead in the opening half, that ended 18-2 in their favor, the Clowns held a tight grip on the game despite a desperate attempt of the Riders to rally and pull it out of the fire in the last half. Norm Niles did the best scoring for the Bruckmen; collecting 12 points. Taylor registered the same number for the Clowns.

The victory for the Clowns was the eleventh of the season in favor of Buster Kenny's "Little Celtics" who play tonight in Red Hook. The only game that the funny men lost in this vicinity was at Highland last week.

Grade School League Games

The regular weekly schedule of Grade School Basketball League games will be played at the Y. M. C. A. Friday afternoon as follows:

School No. 5 vs. School No. 8.
School No. 6 vs. School No. 7.

BILLIARD RESULTS.

Fred Planthaber, the one man who stands in the way of Julius Teller to win the Kaslich billiard tournament, defeated Richard Palen Wednesday night 100-43 before a large gallery that saw Freddie sail through unhampered to his one-sided victory. After the first five innings his lead was never in danger.

Planthaber's high run was 17. He executed several rather brilliant break shots but poor position on the next shot in each case stopped his run. Palen's best effort was a cluster of 13.

Tonight John Schrader meets Clifford Quick.

Stan Wojcik clearly outpointed Sid Ross by the score of 100-67 in the billiard match at the Koenig A. C. Wednesday. The contestants, each rolled off 14 for high.

At the Broadway parlors in old Pythian Hall tonight, Fred Planthaber meets Tommy Kearney.

Major & Kay Five Plays at Highland This Friday Night

Opponents of the Highland American Legion quintet in the regular Friday night basketball attraction at Smith's Hall, Highland, will be the Major & Kay Five of Poughkeepsie, leading team in the Y. M. C. A. League of that city.

Manager Steve Marone of the Legion, although he realizes the Poughkeepsians are strong and threatening, believes that his basketballers will be able to turn them back just as they did the celebrated Detroit Clowns last week.

Marone's brigade, the only group in this vicinity that has scored over the Clowns, claims the championship of Ulster county according to indications, any quintet wishing to disprove it will have a big job on its hands.

Fighting under the Major & Kay banner will be such luminaries as Maury McDermott, former center for two years of the Highland Hose Company; Gregory, Columbia University center last season and Tom McCarthy, who played minor league baseball for five or six years and is said to be just as efficient on the court as on the diamond. Others on the Poughkeepsie team are Ed McDermott, Mulvey, Moriarty and Ligoroni.

Highland will use its regular lineup of Marone, Craig, McAuley, Murphy, Hasbrouck, DeMare and Pamphila.

A great battle is expected between Maury McDermott and McAuley at center and between Gregory and Murphy.

Preliminary to the main game the Highland Juniors will meet the Port Even Aces. Dancing will follow the contests.

Ancient Battle Cry

The word "Ho!" was the formal exclamation used in the Middle Ages by a commander in battle or by an umpire in a tournament to order a cessation of hostilities.

SPORT SLANTS

By Alan J. Gould
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

Goose Sarazen shot some remarkable golf before going to Florida for continuation of his winter campaign, leading up to the early invasion he plans to make in England.

The American and British Open champion played 45 rounds over some of the country's toughest courses and averaged exactly 71.27-45 strokes per round. He broke 70 eleven times, the best mark being a 65 at the Terra Haute Country Club, for a new record. He shot 66 each at Madison, Wis., and Lincoln, Neb.

The following "rigger" score gives an idea of Sarazen's dizzy clip:

Out 332 332 222-22

In 232 323 222-22-44

Grandest Money Winner

Over a period of 11 years Sarazen undoubtedly is the greatest tournament money winner among the professionals. He didn't win many title affairs between his two big years, 1922 and 1923, but he collected close to $100,000 in prize money around this country, Mexico and Great Britain.

This has probably been his best year, all things considered, from a financial as well as competitive standpoint, although general business conditions in the golfing world have prevented Sarazen from cleaning up anything like the money he would have attracted as a double-champion in the boom times.

Here are the major events he has won, with prize money according to the Sarazen standard since 1922, as listed by his business manager, Ray McCarthy:

1922—U. S. open $ 500
Southern open 1,000

1923—North British 1,000

1926—Miami and Miami Beach 2,000
1927—Miami and Miami Beach 2,000
1929—Metropolitan P. G. A. 500
1930—Acqua Caliente 10,000
Florida West Coast 1,000

Shute Steps Out

Denary Shute, the slim, black-haired Ohio star who has been a good money-shooter in recent winter seasons, got off to a big start by collecting $2,500 first prize in the Miami Biltmore Open.

Like Sarazen, Shute is a real "pinch-hitter", with the nerve control and shots that make him a hard man to stop in the stretch.

Gunning for the National Open crown at Winged Foot in 1929, Denary didn't play safe when he came down to the last hole, needing a birdie to tie. The flag was on the far side of a tightly-trapped green, but Shute went for it all the way. His approach "split the pin," but was a trifle too strong and skidded over the green, ruining his chances, but testifying to his boldness and courage under fire.

Coach Kias Cuts H. S. Squad to 25

Coach G. Warren Kias has cut the Kingston High School basketball squad to 25 members from the 70 candidates. This present group has been carefully weeded out by the Maroon monitor and there may be a few more dropped from the group. Kias is working with now every afternoon in the gym. However, the coach expects to have a five in splendid working order for the first game of the season with the Alumni on Friday evening, December 23 in the gym. The Faculty will play the second team in the preliminary.

There are only two veterans of last year's first string squad on the list, Captain Rymer and Tony Debrosky. The latter starred on the left end of the varsity eleven this fall. These boys, Rymer, forward and Debrosky, guard, made up two of the five positions. The other three were held by Thomas, center now playing at Springfield, Captain Post at forward and Maroon a guard, now at Fordham. These boys made up a fine combination that took over the best in the league and Kias now has the tough job of developing three men to carry on the colors of the Maroon and White.

The boys now on the squad are as follows: Bahl, Belcher, Rock, Burgevin, V. Barnes, Cullum, Debrosky, DeVeau, Dykes, Ivory, Gilday, Giespie, Hanley, Hotelling, Keldner, Linden, Melchior, Moore, O'Reilly, Captain Rymer, Rifenbary, W. Scherer, F. Smith, Sussin and Zeek.

They All Take A Hand In Developing USC's Great Eleven

Someone has said that the first thing Coach Howard Jones insists upon when choosing an assistant is that he play a bang-up game of bridge and a fair brand of golf. The "Head Man" prefers to do most of the football coaching himself, taking entire responsibility whether the team wins or loses. About all his right helpers need to do is give some individual instruction now and then and keep themselves looking bright.

HURRY!

You can hurry through with your morning shave if you use the rust-resisting "BLUE BLADE." In the first place this blade is hard enough to cut glass. The steel is especially tempered to take and hold edges of phenomenal keenness. Easy, once-over strokes shave your face clean. You don't need to go back against the grain of the beard. When you are through shaving simply loosen the razor handle and hold the blade under hot water—that's all. The "BLUE BLADE" is then clean and spotless—ready for use the next time. This is one of many reasons why you get unequalled convenience and comfort with the "BLUE BLADE." Try it and see.

No package contains Gillette "Blue Blade" unless it carries the Gillette logo.

FOR CHRISTMAS—Ask your dealer to show you our special Gift Box containing 100 "BLUE BLADES." You pay for the blades alone. The handsome cigarette or jewel case—rich mahogany color—is free.

Messrs. Dushinbere, Cashdollar and Terwilliger, committee on Town and County Accounts reported they had examined the accounts and bills of Justices of the Peace and Constables relative to unlicensed dogs and that claims amounting to $242.10 were filed and the committee recommended that such amount be allowed. The report was received and filed and on motion of the committee was adopted. The bills to be paid out of moneys on hand received from dog license fees.

The committee on printing proceedings, Messrs. Dushinbere, Voss and Feeney reported but one bid received for printing the supervisors proceedings, that of The Freeman Publishing Company for $2.73 per page for 1,200 copies. Supervisor Dushinbere moved the contract be awarded to the one and lowest bidder. Adopted.

A report from the State Commissioner of Correction in regard to an inspection of the county jail made on March 14, 1932, was received and filed.

Messrs. E. W. Carpenter, Henry R. Rich and B. H. Terwilliger, recently appointed Ulster County Work Relief Commission, sent in a communication asking that a clerk be hired by the board at a salary of $20 per month, payable monthly, and that 8 cents per mile be allowed such investigators as the commission required to investigate. Later on resolution of Supervisor Lamoureux the request was granted and the necessary authority was given to permit the County Commissioner of Welfare to pay. An appropriation of $5,000 had been made by the board several days before and the resolution of Supervisor Lamoureux authorized the payment of this fund out of by the County Commissioner of Public Welfare.

A resolution sanctioned by the town of Esopus town board requested that a highway in the town be added to the county road construction map. The road runs from the Eddyville-New Paltz highway from near the property owned by the heirs of Myers, known as Cedar Hill Farm, southerly and easterly to the property of Katatsky, where the road intersects the road leading from Esopus west to the New Paltz town line, a distance of about five miles. The communication was referred to the County Superintendent of Highways.

A similar communication was received requesting and petitioning the board to place on the county highway map the road in the town of Esopus leading from the southerly end of the Port Ewen village along the river to Ulster Park near the Leslie Herring property. This road is known as the River road. It is 3 1/2 miles in length. Received and filed and referred to the County Superintendent of Highways.

Before adjourning until 4 p. m. on December 29, ex-supervisors Ed Yeung and Edward M. Quimby were given the privilege of the floor. Mr. Quimby stated that the banquet of the Supervisors Association would be held at 7:45 o'clock on the evening of December 29 at the Hotel Stuyvesant. Mr. Young congratulated the board on the tax reduction and stated that he was a member of the Taxpayers Association and he knew every member of the association would be glad to learn of the great reduction which was more than had been expected. He said the taxpayers association had asked for a budget of $300,000 and the board had best that figure by over $50,000. He said he wanted to compliment the board and he was sure there was not a taxpayer in the county but would congratulate the board no matter what their politics.

On motion of Supervisor Markle the privilege of the floor was extended Sheriff-elect John H. Saxe, a former supervisor. Mr. Saxe said he wanted to congratulate the board on the tax cut and he said he felt sure the people would appreciate it.

Incidentally the 1932 budget is the lowest since 1926. The county treasurer in a recent report to the board reported a balance in his hands of some $278,000 from last year's appropriation so that the money raised last year by taxation has not all been expended and at the end of the year there will be a considerable balance on hand due to a curtailment of activities and the expenditure of less than had been anticipated.

On motion of Supervisor Markle the board adjourned until 4 o'clock, December 29.

ALLIGERVILLE.
Alligerville, Dec. 15.—All who attended the box social in the church hall Saturday spent a pleasant evening.

If Tippy could have spoken he would have said he was highly honored last Sunday morning when he and his little master, Clifford Osterhoudt, were called to the platform to be used in an object lesson in a sermonette by the pastor on kindness. Tippy is the mascot of the day school where for nearly two years he has gone regularly; returning at noon and back again for the afternoon session. The children all love Tippy and a few days ago gave him a large box of his favorite dog biscuits to celebrate his eighth birthday.

George W. Garrison was taken to the Benedictine Hospital last week for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis McKeel are spending some time with Mrs. McKeel's mother, Mrs. Krom.

Mrs. Josephine Hoar and daughter, Miss Jennie Hoar, went to Pine Tree Inn, Lakehurst, last Friday, where they expect to spend the winter.

Miss Mary McGraw has returned from a very pleasant visit with friends in Brooklyn.

Jesse Cook has gone to Florida, where he has employment for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Schoonmaker will be employed at Pine Tree Inn during the winter months.

The children of the public school are rehearsing for their entertainment to be held in the school house Friday, December 23, and the Young People's Society and Sunday School are also rehearsing for their entertainment to be held in the Church hall, Sunday evening, Christmas night.
